4. EXTENSION OF TIME NO. 11-002 FOR CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT NO. 09-003 (Medicity)

APPLICANT: John Petty, Latham Management
LOCATION: 2171 West Florida Avenue
PLANNER: Carole L. Kendrick, Assistant Planner
DESCRIPTION: A request for Planning Commission review and approval of an extension of time for the previously approved Conditional Use Permit No. 09-003, for the conversion of an existing 130,226 square-foot retail building into a medical facility totaling 145,582 square feet and the construction of a 49-bed hospital totaling 87,695 square feet located on a 13.45 acre site.

The staff report, including a Power Point presentation was given by Assistant Planner Carole Kendrick.
Chairman Gifford posed several questions relating to the length of the CUP extension and advantages or disadvantages of a one-year extension as opposed to a two- or three-year extension.

Planner Kendrick responded that because of the uncertainty of the project, the one-year extension would allow the city to introduce new guidelines or code amendments that might occur.

Chairman Gifford also asked about the maintenance of the property, to which CDD Elliano responded that maintenance had not been addressed in the CUP, but was rather a code enforcement issue. She indicated that progress had been made with the case for this property.

Commissioner Rogers wanted to know the disadvantages to the property owner for a one-year extension.

Planner Kendrick and CDD Elliano together explained that there are cost disadvantages of $1,610 a year, plus a two-month time frame to process the extension and get it on the agenda. The reason for the one-year designation was that there seemed to be an indication the owner was looking at some alternative uses.

Vice Chairman Deuber asked if the building was designed to be two stories or if the outside elevation simply had a two story appearance.

CDD Elliano responded that it would be a two-story building both on the medical center side and on the 49-bed hospital side.

Chairman Gifford opened the public hearing and invited the applicant's representative to the lectern, noting that he had spoken to Mr. Petty earlier this evening, and indicating that the commission was interested in the condition of the property and the viability of the project.

John Petty (P.O. Box 4511, Hemet, CA 92546), approached the lectern as a representative for the applicant. He addressed the maintenance of the property and pledged an on-site, daily or every-other-day inspection and maintenance. He explained that much of the paper and trash that seemed to be prevalent on the site tended to blow from the west side of the shopping center, adding that the four to five shopping carts which had been showing up every night would be handled by placing them in a central location for pick-up by a service.

He also explained the control proposed for the "urban forest," instituted to separate the shopping center from the Village project to the south of the property, noting 20 tons of palm tree fronds and branches had been removed within the last three or four days. He further committed to irrigation of the landscaping, noting that the existing plan calls for trees in the parking lot, and the intent now was to put in all new parking lot trees, saving the existing ones for use elsewhere, or selling them.

In response to a question concerning the extension fee, Mr. Petty explained that the cost of putting up a hospital is about $1 to $3 million per bed, so the extension cost is not the critical issue. They are planning a state-of-the-art medical center appearance.
He assured the Commission that they would be happy to comply with building code issues or changes.

In answer to Chairman Gifford's question concerning the viability of Medicity, Mr. Petty explained that the initial idea of the project was designed prior to the bankruptcy and eventual sale of Hemet Hospital to PHH. The physicians of PHH did not know what was going to happen with the Hospital, so they were envisioning Medicity as a reduced operations acute care facility. With the sale and turnaround of Hemet Hospital, the need for the new facility was in question. However, interest is now heightened in turning Medicity into a heart hospital, as $70 to $80 million in heart care for Valley residents is going to other facilities, such as St. Bernardine's in San Bernardino. Also, a cancer center and dialysis center could be incorporated into the Medicity facility.

Vice Chairman Deuber questioned Mr. Petty regarding the statement in his letter to the Commission which suggested that a large retail user would better complement this site. She asked him to explain.

Mr. Petty answered, stating that they were just trying to cover all eventualities, should the medical facility not be viable. He enumerated different options that had been examined and rejected, but also stated that they were still looking at alternatives.

Vice Chairman Deuber also asked CDD Elliano if a retail facility were to be selected rather than the medical center, how that would change anything regarding the CUP extension.

CDD Elliano explained that the site was in a C-2 zone, and that retail was permitted by right. However, another CUP cannot be achieved without going through the process again.

Mr. Petty further explained that if a different use were selected, they would plan, for their own protection, to initiate a new permit and application. The only retail use on site, should the Medicity plan proceed, would be a medically-related retail use, such as surgical supplies or a pharmacy.

Both Commissioners Rogers and Thompson showed enthusiasm for the architectural renderings and stated willingness to extend the CUP for two or three years.

Chairman Gifford closed the public hearing and also indicated that since this facility would bring high-end jobs to the city, that since the investors involved were long-time residents of the Valley, and that since the city was in need of this type of facility, he didn't feel a three-year extension would be unreasonable.

Vice Chairman Deuber inquired of CDD Elliano regarding whether any changes were needed to the conditions of approval.

CDD Elliano indicated that only Condition No. 1 would need to be modified, changing the date from October 20, 2012 to October 20, 2014.

It was MOVED by Commissioner Overmyer and SECONDED by Commissioner Thompson to ADOPT Resolution Bill No. 11-018, modifying Condition No. 1 to a three-year extension.
The MOTION was carried by the following vote:

WORK STUDY ITEMS

5. WORK STUDY TO REVIEW AND DISCUSS PROPOSED REVISIONS TO THE ZONING CODE REGARDING FENCES AND WALLS

- APPLICANT: City of Hemet
- LOCATION: City-wide
- PLANNER: Emery Papp, Principal Planner

A Power Point presentation was given to the Commission by Principal Planner Emery Papp regarding proposed revisions to the zoning code concerning fences and walls.

CDD Elliano amplified the need for a new permitting process for fences as being a way to avoid confusion, noting that this is not regarded as a revenue generator, but a way to aid the residents in selecting the right materials and building to a standard.

Chairman Gifford stated his feeling that a permitting process was necessary, and that the city needed some standards, but that the challenge would be getting the information out to the residents. He also felt that certain parts of the city would require differing appearances, such as more of a rustic feel in the downtown area, with materials like wrought iron.

Vice Chair Deuber promoted the idea of consistency, especially in the revitalization of downtown, and suggested that that the boundary mechanism, or fencing, should be permitted to allow for that consistency in materials, height restrictions, etc. She further suggested that when a property was sold, the new occupant should have 60 days to change inappropriate fencing to approved fencing rather than grandfathering in old fencing.

City Attorney Jex advised that you can have an approved amortization period for a reasonable period of time for that new owner to recover the invested costs in the fence.

CDD Elliano explained further that there is no requirement to retrofit a home unless there is illegal construction, and code changes needed to be adopted. Just the fact of it transferring ownership does not constitute a reason to upgrade the property or the City’s ability to compel that.

Vice Chairman Deuber said if, for example, it’s an FHA loan involved with the purchase, such things as smoke alarms and bracing of the water heater must be accomplished before close of escrow.
COD Elliano explained that those were safety issues, and fencing does not fall under that category.

Vice Chair countered that safety could be an issue in fencing if, for example, the gate lock was inoperative or there were jagged edges in the fences that created a safety hazard.

COD Elliano stated that in those cases, code enforcement would address the issue. Staff's concern is new development and new fencing in developed areas of the City, to better regulate fencing and raise the quality and appearance.

Chairman Gifford suggested that staff bring back a model ordinance with more specifics for them to examine.

COD Elliano expressed her feeling that permitting was a necessity, and advised that staff was working on guidelines, utilizing ideas from other cities which they would bring back to the Commission.

Commissioner Overmyer cautioned that amortization could be difficult for some older residents, and that particularly brick fencing needs permitting because of its permanence. He also felt that owners planning to put in temporary fencing that is easy to move would be less likely to come to the city for a permit than if they were investing in a block wall.

There was discussion of the 42-inch maximum height requirement for front yards, the necessity to limit color choices, fencing around pools (which is a building code requirement), certain building materials, costly and low-cost, and hillside requirements.

Vice Chairman Deuber suggested that staff bring back their hit list of items they would like to see for the Commission's review.

6. SUMMARY REPORT ON THE ECONOMIC FORECAST FOR THE INLAND EMPIRE

A verbal presentation was provided by COD Elliano regarding recently reported economic trends and indicators for the City of Hemet.

Chairman Gifford thanked COD Elliano and reflected on the statistic that service stations are a major revenue contributor to the city in terms of taxes and sales. He noted that this was indicative of the flight from the Valley by residents who are seeking entertainment, shopping advantages, etc. He suggested that it was necessary to get state of the art entertainment to the community, such as theater complexes, restaurants, etc., which would mean millions of dollars that stay in the community rather than being spent elsewhere.
7. COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DIRECTOR REPORTS

A. Update Report on Medical Marijuana Dispensaries

COD Elliano gave a brief history of the medical marijuana dispensary activities in Hemet from 2009 to present, including the urgency ordinance adopted in April of 2009, which changed to a permanent ordinance in March of 2011, prohibiting medical marijuana dispensaries in the City. She noted, however, that in January of 2011, dispensaries had started sprouting again, with eight appearing in the City between January and November. As of this time, they have all been closed, and to staff's knowledge, there are no dispensaries operating in the City of Hemet today. She credited this to the team of code enforcement officers, police officers, and city attorney staff that had worked as a team to quickly identify, investigate, send cease and desist letters, acquire court injunctions, impose building code violations, and follow through on shutting such facilities down. She advised that all court decisions were in the city's favor, and noted that the city had spent less in this year getting rid of eight dispensaries and a commercial grow operation than most communities in surrounding areas have spent to get rid of one establishment.

COD Elliano went on to advise that some of these dispensaries had morphed into mobile dispensaries, which are much harder to find and identify, and expressed hope that they would leave Hemet because of the city's harsh stance. However, she asked for the community's cooperation in keeping eyes and ears open, and notifying the city if any are seen.

COD Elliano further noted that, in November of 2011, the State Appellate Court upheld communities' right to ban dispensaries, so the decision is currently on the side of the cities, which makes enforcement easier.

8. CITY ATTORNEY REPORTS: (None)

9. PLANNING COMMISSIONER REPORTS:

A. Chairman Gifford – (None)

B. Vice Chairman Deuber – reported on the sale of the Hemet Theater to a small non-profit public foundation, with the Diamond Valley Arts Council interested in being the operations arm. The goal would be concerts, music venues, jazz, and plays. There is an orchestra pit underneath the stage that was cemented over, so the goal is to open it, restore the theater, and get it listed on the Historic Registry.

Vice Chairman Deuber also mentioned the Downtown Farmers Market that included a Hometown Christmas for the month of December, which had done very well. She mentioned the residents of the city that care about helping in revitalizing the community.
C. Commissioner Overmyer – wished to go on record stating his thought that the housing market in Hemet would come back significantly before 2016.

D. Commissioner Rogers – inquired regarding the landscaping requirements for the Regal Theater. He noted that he’d been visiting the theater for approximately seven years and that he had not seen any landscaping other than dirt.

CDD Elliano said they would look at the original plans and see what could be done.

Commissioner Rogers also asked for an update on the former Echo Hills golf course that is being left to deteriorate, to which CDD Elliano responded that the city's goal was to try to have that transferred to another entity that can reestablish the course, which had been abandoned by the owners because of the cost of water to maintain it.

E. Commissioner Thompson thanked the staff, the City of Hemet, the citizens and the Commission for allowing him to be part of the Planning Commission, but noted that due to a job change he would be relocating to the Coachella Valley and therefore must turn in his resignation as Planning Commissioner.

10. CERTIFICATE OF APPRECIATION FOR COMMISSIONER CHAUNCEY THOMPSON

Chairman Gifford read the following certificate of appreciation for Commissioner Thompson:

"Certificate of Appreciation presented to Chauncey Thompson for outstanding commitment to the community during your service as the City of Hemet Planning Commissioner, presented this 6th day of December, 2011."

Chairman Gifford added that he had been very proud to have Commissioner Thompson on the Commission and would recommend him in any capacity.

There was unanimous consensus to cancel the Planning Commission meetings of December 20th and January 3rd.
